Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1400 on Friday 14 May 2021

UK Outlook for Wednesday 19 May 2021 to Friday 28 May 2021:
Unsettled conditions continuing, with scattered showers again developing across most areas. To start the period, these may be heavy, and at times wintry in the far north, especially over hills. Further into this period, it is likely to remain changeable with a mixture of sunshine and scattered showers, though heavy in places with a risk of thunder. Brief spells of more organised cloud, bringing rain and strong winds, remain possible, particularly in the south. Generally staying breezy throughout. While temperatures by night are likely to below average, frost is expected to be restricted to prone locations, especially where winds fall light. By day, temperatures are likely to be around or slightly below average, notably cool in the South but cold in the North.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.